MOODY McCARTHY

COMIC / WRITER / ALOOF UNCLE

Moody McCarthy is a word smith (or “wordsmith”, if it’s one word) who thinks about jokes constantly. Good thing he’s a comic - he’d be an annoying physician assistant. Moody started performing in the 1900s, and now - with TV credits & a night license - he’s in more demand this millennium. Based out of New York, he’s become a continental favorite by spinning yarns about the joys of time zones, women with raspy voices, and the perks of being an uncle. No gimmicks, just jokes: the lad can set-up & punch for 53 minutes. And don’t let Moody’s decorum fool you - he’s no pushover: here’s a versatile act you can take home to your folks or to your gang initiation. Moody McCarthy: few people hate him!
